FIRE DOG

Salt-'n-Pepper was the only fire dog who never went to any fires! Every time the big, brass gong in the Firehouse Station clanged to signal a fire somewhere, all the firemen came whizzing down the big, brass pole, leaped to their places on the big, red, puffing fire engine, and roared off into the street—without even a backward glance at poor Salt-'n-Pepper!

And there he'd be—racing madly down the street, trying to keep up with the speeding, clanging fire engine, and, of course, was never able to do it. At last, when he could run no more, poor Salt-'n-Pepper would give up the chase, and sit down right in the middle of the street to cry his heart out. Then, panting and exhausted, he'd trudge slowly back to the Firehouse Station to wait for the firemen to return from the fire.

One day, after he'd chased the racing fire engine for nearly a mile, poor Salt-'n-Pepper was so tired when he got back to the Firehouse Station that he curled up inside Engine #2 and fell fast asleep. He was so worn out that he didn't even hear the first engine's return. He didn't hear anything at all, in fact, until—CLANG! CLANG! went the fire alarm again. CLANG! CLANG! CLANG!

"Five bells!" roared the Chief. "It's a five-alarm blaze, boys! We'd better take both engines! Let's go!!"

And before Salt-'n-Pepper could collect his scattered wits enough even to sit up, they were off! They raced down the street with sirens howling and whistles blowing, and in five minutes they were at the scene of the blaze. And what a blaze it was! The whole building was on fire!

"Nobody could get in there!" muttered the Chief. "And we don't know if everyone is out . . ."

Salt-'n-Pepper didn't wait to hear more. He just turned around and raced into the burning building. Without a thought for his own safety, he dashed from floor to floor, through the smoke and the heat and the crackling flames—checking to see that no one was trapped! Then, just as he reached the top floor, he heard a frightened little moan! He whirled around and there, just inside a blazing doorway, he saw a trembling, little, black-and-white puppy! With one bound, Salt-'n-Pepper leaped through the flames, grabbed the puppy by the scruff of its neck, and leaped down the stairs to the first floor and out into the street. His eyes smarting, his hair singed, he ran straight to the Chief and held up the puppy.

"Why, you've saved a life, Salty!" said the Chief softly. "You're a HERO! And I guess from now on we'll have a FIRE DOG to take with us to every fire!!" And he took off his own shiny, black helmet and placed it gently on Salt-'n-Pepper's proud head.

"Now, Tubby, I'm going to the store and while I'm gone I want you to take care of Louie."

Tubby the cat nodded his fuzzy head at his master. So he would have to take care of Louie. Poor Louie. Louie was a mouse!

"All right, Louie, Tubby will take care of everything while I'm away. I'm sure he loves you like a brother, don't you, Tubby?"

"Meee-e-eoooo-w," smiled Tubby. He loved Louie but he loved him as a mouse dinner.

Then, the master closed the door behind him!

"Oh no!" shrieked Louie charging for the door.

ZIP!

Tubby had made it first! Calmly, he slipped the key out of the door and swallowed it. Then, he grinned at Louie.

"HAAALLLPPP!" The chase was on!

Up the stairs scrambled Louie. Up the stairs raced Tubby. Down the stairs zipped Louie. Down the stairs zipped Tubby. Then Tubby took a short cut and ended up in front of Louie who was running as hard as he could. Slowly, Tubby stuck out his foot...

CR-R-R-ASH!

Over and over rolled Louie right into a corner of old junk!

"Oh, my head. Hey, what's this?" Louie had picked up an old lamp with the letters A-L-A-D-D-I-N on it. It was the magic lamp.

Quickly, Louie rubbed the lamp. Then!

PPooooffff! OUT POPPED A REAL GENIE.

"I am the genie of the lamp. What do you wish?"

Louie just trembled. The lamp was real. There was a genie.

"I... I..." stammered Louie, "I want you to hit that cat over there in the head with a big piece of cheese!"

SSSSLLLLAAAAPPPP!

"MMMEEEOOOWWWW..."

Tubby had been hit full in the face with the biggest piece of cheese this side of the moon!

"Later, when the master returned to the house, he found poor Tubby cringing in the corner and Louie sleeping in Tubby's favorite chair.

"My, my, isn't that nice. Tubby gave his chair to Louie."

What Tubby's master did not know was that Tubby had been hit in the head with so many cheeses he was dizzy. And Louie was sleeping in Tubby's chair because he was so full of cheese he just couldn't stay awake.

with Fast Selling American Seeds

Take your choice of 100 wonderful prizes. You can earn as many as you want. Most prizes shown here and many more in our Big Prize Book are given WITHOUT COST for selling just one 50-pack order of American Vegetable and Flower Seeds at 30¢ a pack. Some of the larger prizes require more sales or extra money as explained in the Big Prize Book.

Send NO MONEY, We Trust You

Everybody wants American Seeds. They're fresh and ready to grow. You'll sell them quickly to family, friends and neighbors. Many boys and girls sell their packs in one day. You can, too — and get your prize at once. Or, if you want money instead of a prize, keep $5.00 for every 50-pack order you sell.
